

Awarded
£9,587

Mikelyns Permissive Footpath

This project has created permissive access over Mikelyns Farm in Farway, providing over 2.1 km of access onto otherwise private land. The views afforded by these paths are unique and truly breathtaking.

The route is fitted with 2-in-1 gates to ensure access for as many people as possible to enjoy the countryside. These gates make the route available to people with knee and joint problems who cannot manage traditional stiles.

The three sections of path link up to the Rights of Way network facilitating longer walks as well as a shorter circular walk. They provide access to interesting habitats on the farm which has two County Wildlife Sites, and it passes through a traditional orchard, which has had replacement apple trees planted.

View the information leaflet produced to promote the walking routes here.

FiPL Outcomes

PEOPLE There are more opportunities for people to explore, enjoy and understand the landscape.

There are increased opportunities for more diverse audiences to explore, enjoy and understand the landscape.

NATURE Existing habitat is better managed.

PLACE The quality and character of the landscape is reinforced or enhanced.

Historic structures and features are conserved, enhanced, or interpreted more effectively.

Early evening autumnal view from the path

The gates and route marking.

View across the valley.